Detailed Action

The Amendments and Remarks filed on 10/13/05 in response to the Office Action of 7/6/05 are acknowledged and have been entered.

Claims 8-12 and 17-28 were pending.

Claims 8, 10, 18-19, 23-24, and 27-29 have been amended by Applicant.

Claims 8-12 and 17-28 are currently under examination.

The text of those sections of Title 35 U.S.C. code not included in this Office Action can be found in a prior Office Action.

Objections

Applicant, in addressing the objection to the specification for inconsistencies, has amended claims 18 and 23 to recite "mAb 240, mAb 246, and mAb 241". Thus, the objection is withdrawn.

Rejections Withdrawn

The rejection of claims 19 and 24 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claims the subject matter which Applicant regards as the invention is withdrawn in view of amendments.

The rejection of claims 8-9, 17, 20, and 27-28 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zusman et al (The Cancer Journal 10:116-120, 1997) and further in view of Carson et al (US Patent 5,068,177) is withdrawn in view of arguments.

Response to Arguments

The response filed on 10/13/05 to the rejection of claims 8-12 and 17-28 under 35 U.S.C., first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement has been carefully considered but is deemed not to be persuasive.

With the response, claim 8 was amended to recite that the claimed synthetic peptide "is 7 to 30 amino acid residues in length of a variable region of an anti-p53 mAb and contains a sequence of a CDR of the heavy or light chain of the ~~[[an]]~~ anti-p53 mAb, and salts ~~and chemical derivatives thereof~~". The amendment thus clarifies that the claimed synthetic peptide contains fragments of CDR sequences and optional flanking amino acids from an anti-p53 mAb. The response suggests that the specification provides sufficient disclosure such that one skilled in the art would reasonably conclude that Applicants had possession of the claimed invention at the time the application was filed. Specifically, the response points to the Examples, which demonstrate preparation of CDR-based peptides of anti-p53 mAbs and their use for inducing anti-p53 immunity.

In response to this argument, the claims are still drawn to every synthetic peptide 7 to 30 amino acid residues in length of a variable region of any and every anti-p53 mAb that contains a sequence of a CDR of the heavy or light chain of said anti-p53 mAb.

The only CDR sequences disclosed in the specification are in the context of peptides from mAb 240, mAb 246, and mAb 421. There is no disclosure of any CDR sequences that is not in this context as broadly encompassed in the claims. Thus, one of skill in the art would not ^{recognize} understand that Applicant had possession of the claimed invention at the time the instant application was filed.

Therefore, in view of the lack of guidance in the specification one of skill in the art would be required to perform undue experimentation in order to practice the claimed invention. However, this rejection could be obviated by restricting the claimed invention to a synthetic peptide capable of eliciting antibodies to p53, which peptide is 7 to 30 amino acids in length of a variable region of mAb240, mAb246, or mAb241, and contains a sequence of a CDR of the heavy or light chain of mAb240, mAb246, or mAb241, and salts thereof.
